Hey Lions! Opportunity Awaits at the Lions Learning Center. ... And it is designed Just For You!

Lions Learning Center is a program of training designed for independent study that is available online on the Lions International website, www.lionsclubs.org. The courses are focused on leadership and management topics for use in Lions Clubs volunteer positions. They include interactive activities such as matching activities, multiple choice quizzes, simulated conversations, realistic Lion scenarios, and assessment activities. Each course may take 30 minutes to complete.

The overall purpose of these courses are to develop more effective Lion Leaders. It is reported that one of the key reasons that individuals join volunteer organizations is for personal and professional growth. You will find the Lions Learning Center in the Leadership Development topic of the members section of the LCI website.

How do you access these courses?

The course log-in process has been improved to allow Lions to create their own user account, using their Lions club member ID number, password of their choice, name, and email address.

Once you create a user account, you will use the ID number and password to log into any course. The new log-in process will enable each Lion to have a personal profile report of online courses that he/she has completed. By using the same log-in process you can complete part of a course, exit the course and return to the spot where you stopped previously.

Look at these course opportunities available to you: Coaching, Conflict Resolution, Creativity, Decision Making, Delegation, Effective Listening, Effective Teams, Lions Leadership, Managing Change, Managing Meetings, Member Motivation, Mentoring, Promoting Innovation, Community Service, Public Relations, Public Speaking, Setting Goals, Servant Leadership, Team Motivation, Time Management, Valuing Member Diversity, and Your Mission Statement!

Roger W. Babson says, "A person's character and self esteem may be strengthened with a volunteer service organization. But your character and self esteem must be a part of you, something you feel in your heart and practice all your life."

Then he says, "Character and self esteem changes a human being from a small ineffective detached unit into part of a mighty whole. It makes him serve others, and this service is returned to him in kind."

Thank you, 31-I Lions, for another GREAT month of service. Continue the enthusiasm, pride, service, and togetherness that makes LIONS so special.

accepted the appointment as District Centennial Celebration Coordinator.

From DG-Elect Butch --

Greetings, Lions of District 31-I,

It's great to be a Lion in District 31-I, the Ideal District! So many good things are happening and so many people are being served. I have spoken of the International President's Centennial Challenge to serve 100 million people by June 2018. We are now up to 57 million! That's wonderful, and many thanks go out to several of our clubs in the Ideal District for getting that information turned in on the International Service Activities Report on MyLCI. Keep up the great work, Fellow Lions!

Speaking of good things happening in the district, Lion Elizabeth and I attended District L's convention in Asheville November 20-21 at the Crown Plaza. The convention was great and the weather couldn't have been better. Fun Night lived up to its name with several groups providing entertainment.

The Tail Twister's breakfast and auction were enjoyed by all as Lion Joe Silvers sold various and sundry goods to raise money for the McCune Center which is operated solely by District L Lions. What a wonderful accomplishment!

In addition to a bountiful hospitality room, across the hall was the "chocolate room", provided by a dedicated Lion from South Carolina. Believe me, nobody had to have directions to the chocolate room. All in all, it was a very well-planned convention.

Another very well planned convention was for our own District I in Clemmons on November 13 & 14. Our convention planning committee worked since April on the details.

I'd like to take this opportunity to personally thank each person on the committee and many others who contributed to make this a very successful initial convention for our new district – The Ideal District! Theresa Matthews and I were co-chairs but believe me, we could not have carried out such an auspicious convention without the help of our committee and many others who provided much help and encouragement.

If you were unable to attend our convention, you missed the time of your life. A small group of Lions leaders had dinner with Mrs. William (Ginny) Woolard in Charlotte on Thursday night and that's always a special treat! Thanks should not only go to Miss Ginny but also to PDG Gary Steele and his lovely wife, Lion Liz. They were instrumental in helping Miss Ginny get the dinner prepared and maneuvered the logistics of the occasion. It was marvelous!

Much like District L, we started on Friday night with a Fun Night theme, "With our 'I' on the Future." There were hot dogs and hamburgers and entertainment from the Sunshine Sisters of Thomasville and gospel singing from The Grove Singers of Lexington. This group is very dear to my heart!

After the entertainment, many of our Lions enjoyed Lions Bingo, a special bingo using Lions terms. It's really a great way to learn more about Lions and what they do by remembering words and phrases about Lionism while at the same time winning prizes!

District I had a hospitality room that was also absolutely to die for! It wasn't a very large room and it stayed full for the entire convention with food and big hearts and plenty of conversation. Thanks to Lion Elizabeth Conrad and Lion Kirby Matthews in addition to many others who contributed so very much to the hospitality room. Special thanks to Lion Sarah Byerly who organized the donation process.

After Saturday's Tail Twisters breakfast, an auction for Brighter Visions was directed by Lion Joe Silvers from District L. We really appreciate Joe taking his time to help our district raise money for Brighter Visions. But hey, we're on the same team!

Saturday morning also included a Town Hall meeting with International Director Linda Tincher of Indiana to mini-seminars to Zone Basket Raffle to pin trader sales.

The Brighter Visions Boutique is a wonderful idea of Lion Debbie Williams of the Linwood Club. Members from throughout the district provided handicrafts and other items to be sold to raise funds for Brighter Visions. Thanks to all who participated in providing items AND buying items, and thanks to Lion Debbie for her hard work to make it successful.

There was an extremely important cabinet meeting in the afternoon, mainly to elect our DG team for 2016-2017. Moi (Lion Butch Conrad) was elected District Governor, Lion George Culp as 1st Vice District Governor, and Lion Carolyn Sprinkle as 2nd Vice District Governor. Thanks for your support in this very important election. Speaking for the team, we will do our best to continue what District Governor Allen Reinhardt has started – serving others with love, compassion, and understanding. Thanks for all you do, DG Allen!

HOW TO DO IT!

1st VDG-Elect George --

On the Prowl

December is here and our year is approximately one-half completed. During November, I visited the following clubs: Cleveland, Lake Norman, Cornelius/Lake Norman, Charlotte Southern, Mt. Airy, Rockwell, and Mooresville. I also attended the quarterly NC Lions Council of Governors and NC Lions Inc. board meetings in Southern Pines, and received Advance Leadership training in Chicago.

Today, with 46 club visits behind me, I continue to be pleased with what I am seeing in your clubs. Your enthusiasm is sure to spread to others in your community.

For those of you who have shared a visit with me, you know my desire that our clubs focus on service and building relationships with those you serve. I've also encouraged you to tell your story to others so that they too will want to feel the joy of serving others.

So, in the Christmas Spirit of joy and service, I would like to share my story with you.

It was about this time of year in 1983. The trees were almost bare from the wind and rain of the previous night, and cold weather seemed to have set in for the winter. I called my VIP Leroy and his wife to see if there was anything the LIONS could do for them in this Christmas season.

Leroy, totally blind from birth, said Linda, his wife, would like a Christmas tree as their sighted daughter, Crystal, was at the age that she needed a tree.

"Of course", I replied, "No problem, how about this Saturday?" I was already thinking of my old tree in the basement, recently replaced with a new improved one. I would take it to them and give them decorations as well.

Before I could share my plan, Leroy interjected; "George, could you get us a live tree?" It did not occur to me that a blind person would find more enjoyment in the "smells" of Christmas rather than the "sights" of Christmas.

"Sure," I told him and left thinking of where I might buy a tree.

As a child growing up, my dad always cut a cedar tree from my grandfather's farm for our family Christmas.

With an X-shaped bottom nailed to the stump, we decorated and stood it next to the window for both our and our neighbor's enjoyment. Yet, the most lingering memory was the smell of a cedar tree when we walked into the house.

I knew what I had to do . . . it had to be a cedar tree for Leroy and Linda!

With the farm no longer in the family, I began to ask friends if they knew where I could cut a cedar tree for Christmas. Soon I had a place to search. Later that week, I walked in to the woods and finally found the perfect cedar for my VIP family. I cut it, pulled it out the woods, and tied it to the roof of the car. Making my way to Leroy's, I couldn't wait to see what they had to say.

As I pulled into their driveway, I blew the horn. Leroy and Linda soon appeared on their front porch. I told them to go back in until I could get the tree up in their living room and they obliged. I placed the tree in a stand and set it up by the front window. I then waited anxiously to tell them to come and see what I had for them.

As Linda, though legally blind with minimal vision, came into the room, her face said it all. At least, I thought so at the time. Then Leroy walked over to the tree and shuffled himself directly in front of the tree.

Placing his outstretched hands near the top of the tree, he began to touch the tree down both sides with slow feeling hands until he reached the lowest limb.

As he stood up he said, "It sure is pretty."

For me, it became one of my most memorable moments in working with the visual handicapped.

"It sure is pretty . . ."

Leroy, blind from birth, could see with his hands and smell the prettiest cedar tree in the neighborhood.

Every year after that until Leroy passed away and Linda moved out of town . . . my family's best Christmas present was when we found, cut, and delivered a fresh cedar Christmas to Linda and Leroy.

Merry Christmas --

May your home too be filled with the smells and touches of Christmas.

I hope that you can --

Thomasville Lions Club celebrated its 77th anniversary on October 3 charter night at the Thomasville Woman's Club. Club President Angie Rubnich presented a Jack Stickley Fellowship to Lion Jim Sides.

After lunch in the "Space Station" and the cabinet meeting, there was new member orientation conducted by Global Membership Team Coordinator Gene Everette of Dobson. Then, the brain child of DG Allen, seven fabulous mini-sessions on topics on a range of topics. This was a very popular part of the convention activities.

Last, but by no means least, the highlight of the convention – the District Governor's banquet. Our guest speaker for the evening was International Director Linda Tinker.

Speaking from my heart, I think that this first-ever convention of District 31-I was very successful and that is due to the hard work of many Lions of the District from various Lions Clubs who jumped in and volunteered to help in whatever way they could. From the very beginning of District I, we seem to be on the same page and it seems as if we have known each other forever. Not one time did we have to beg for someone to do a job. There were usually many volunteers for various jobs.

I think District I is truly the "Ideal District" and is off to an Incredible start. Your 2016-2017 DG team pledges to keep the ball rolling in service and leadership. Thank you one and all!

Yours in Lionism, Butch Conrad

BV Boutique Success Story

Brighter Visions Boutique did very well at our district convention, raising a total of $1,182. I am very grateful to everyone who supported this fundraiser. We had a wide variety of wonderful items -- thanks to all who shared their talents! I also appreciate everyone who shopped.

BV credit was earned by 14 clubs who made donations. I am planning to use the leftover items to have a Brighter Visions Bazaar at my club, hoping to sell additional items for which each club will receive BV credit.

Thank you again for your help in making this a successful event.

Bethlehem Lions Club

Lion Jamie Chandler and Lion Sherry Lackey presented checks to Bethlehem School Benevolence Fund, Angel Tree, and Christian Crisis Center, among others, as they spread Christmas Cheer on behalf of Bethlehem Lions Club.

Bethlehem Lions Club has made several local donations to worthy projects this fall. Hazel Yoder spoke to the club about the Back Pack Program sponsored by the local Rotary Club, which packs food for students from families of the working poor for over the weekend. The Lions made a donation.

A donation went to Santa Cops, an Alexander County program for children of incarcerated parents in need of Christmas gifts. Another to Bethlehem Elementary School fund for supplies as well as to their Benevolence Fund for underprivileged children. Donations were made to the Angel Tree and the Christian Crisis Center as well.

Bethlehem Lions also helped the Taylorsville Lions with their recent fair along with members from the Alexander County Police department and the Longview Lions.

On Sept. 30 Cali-Valle del Lili Lions of Columbia, South America, and Charlotte SouthPark Lions signed a Lions Club Twinning Agreement and started discussing a joint service project: Jesus is Transformation. The project is to help addicted youth recover from substance abuse. In the spirit of Lionism we hope both Lion Clubs will support the Jesus is Transformation Foundation located in Cali, Colombia, South America by providing advice, manpower, and donations for purchasing equipment and supplies. At present, a mobile juice/ice cream parlor helps raise funds for this project.

Valle del Lili Lions are all women and also have a singing group that raises funds for their projects.
